

At Wolford, we lead the market with exceptional European skin wear. We believe that the future of fashion is about substance. We are on a mission to drive progress through empowerment & liberation. Sparking an united journey with passion and an entrepreneurial mind set. We are committed to a better tomorrow, an open world. Embracing uniqueness and welcoming diversity. Born in Austria, at home in the world.

People willing to promote Wolford's success are our most valuable capital. For a limited project-based collaboration and to boost the merchandising team at our Wolford headquarters in Bregenz, we are looking for a innovative thinking and analytical personality as

MERCHANDISING ANALYST (F/M/D)

In this position you are responsible for ensuring a proper business analysis and structuring the reporting process to identify business needs, challenges and market opportunities and to achieve business goals.

YOUR TASKS:

- Reporting: responsible for the data quality and accuracy of internal/external reporting, creating also ad hoc solution to support business needs
- Business Analysis: performing various ad hoc-analysis and project implementing best practices generating actionable insights on new opportunities and trend
- Evaluate existing business processes and recommend improvements
- Develop action plans to overcome markets and channels challenges
- Recommend improvements based on market and competitors analysis

YOUR PROFILE:

- Bachelor's degree, preferably in business, economics, finance or comparable discipline and 7+ years of sales operations, service operations or retail experience
- Excellent analytical, project management and solution-oriented skills.
- Manage multiple priorities with high flexibility, maintaining strong focus on deadlines and results
- Proficiency in Excel and PowerPoint
- Being able to balance deep understanding of systems with strong business sense to understand business needs, flows, systems, drivers, and processes.
- Fluent in English

WHAT WE OFFER:

- An exciting challenge in an innovative company that can also look back on a long tradition
- You will be part of a committed team
- Ongoing further development with in-store training and a weekly training blog
- You will receive a discount on Wolford products

Come and join us at Wolford. We look forward to receiving your application!